Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

September 10, 2023

Today's Gospel reading is taken from a chapter of Matthew's Gospel, which is sometimes called the "discourse on the Church" or the "church order" discourse. In this part of Matthew's Gospel, Jesus speaks more directly about matters of Church discipline and order. In today's reading we find one of only three instances in which Jesus uses the word church in Matthew's Gospel. In Matthew's record of Jesus' teaching, we can hear echoes of the kinds of issues faced by the early Christian community.

In the first part of the "discourse on the Church" (Matthew 18:1-14), Matthew addresses the Christian community's concerns about rank. Jesus responds to the disciples' question about who is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. Jesus indicates that those who wish to enter the kingdom of heaven must be like children, and he cautions those leaders who might lead these "little ones" astray. He also responds with the parable of the lost sheep, indicating how God will seek out and bring back those "little ones" who have strayed. In today's Gospel reading, Matthew 18:15-20, Jesus addresses a common occurrence in the Christian community: a dispute between two members of the Church. Jesus outlines a procedure for settling such matters fairly. The victim should privately address the offender and attempt to resolve the dispute without outside involvement. If that fails, then the victim should bring two or three witnesses and confront the offender again. If the dispute is still unresolved, the matter should be brought to the attention of the entire community. If the offender refuses to adhere to the reparations prescribed by the community, then Jesus suggests that the offender may be expelled from the Church.

Jesus does not discourage disagreement within the community of the Church; he acknowledges the reality of conflict and error and offers his disciples a means for addressing such matters. It is in the conclusion to this teaching that the message of hope is found: Jesus is present with the community and will guide the community in its relations. If decisions are taken in prayer, then the community can be assured of God's assistance.

La lectura del Evangelio de hoy está tomada de un capítulo del Evangelio de Mateo, que a veces se llama el "discurso sobre la Iglesia" o el discurso del "orden de la iglesia". En esta parte del Evangelio de Mateo, Jesús habla más directamente sobre cuestiones de disciplina y orden de la Iglesia. En la lectura de hoy encontramos uno de los tres únicos casos en los que Jesús usa la palabra iglesia en el Evangelio de Mateo. En el registro de Mateo sobre las enseñanzas de Jesús, podemos escuchar ecos de los tipos de problemas que enfrentaba la comunidad cristiana primitiva.

En la primera parte del "discurso sobre la Iglesia" (Mateo 18:1-14), Mateo aborda las preocupaciones de la comunidad cristiana sobre el rango. Jesús responde a la pregunta de los discípulos sobre quién es el mayor en el reino de los cielos. Jesús indica que quienes deseen entrar en el reino de los cielos deben ser como niños, y advierte a los líderes que podrían desviar a estos "pequeños". También responde con la parábola de la oveja perdida, indicando cómo Dios buscará y traerá de vuelta a los "pequeños" que se han desacarriado.

En la lectura del Evangelio de hoy, Mateo 18:15-20, Jesús aborda un hecho común en la comunidad cristiana: una disputa entre dos miembros de la Iglesia. Jesús describe un procedimiento para resolver tales asuntos de manera justa. La víctima debe dirigirse al agresor en privado e intentar resolver la disputa sin participación externa. Si eso falla, entonces la víctima debe traer dos o tres testigos y confrontar al agresor nuevamente. Si la disputa aún no se resuelve, el asunto debe comunicarse a toda la comunidad. Si el delincuente se niega a adherirse a las reparaciones prescritas por la comunidad, entonces Jesús sugiere que el delincuente puede ser expulsado de la Iglesia.

Jesús no desalienta los desacuerdos dentro de la comunidad de la Iglesia; reconoce la realidad del conflicto y el error y ofrece a sus discípulos un medio para abordar esos asuntos. Es en la conclusión de esta enseñanza donde se encuentra el mensaje de esperanza: Jesús está presente en la comunidad y la guiará en sus relaciones. Si las decisiones se toman en oración, entonces la comunidad puede estar segura de la ayuda de Dios.
